Code of Christian Conduct

Jesus was a teacher; the disciples were his students. Jesus taught the disciples that each of them was a reflection of God, the Father, even when they disagreed with one another. So, the disciples not only learned from Jesus, but learned from one another as well.

Therefore, in the class as well as at home, I will be respectful of adults and other young people with whom I interact.

Jesus never told a parable or a story to the crowds without praying for long hours first. It was important for the Son of God to prepare for each day and each activity so he would be sure to say and do the right thing.

Therefore, I will prepare for Faith Formation by reading the assignment and completing the homework before coming to class.

Jesus never told people to do something that he himself was not willing to do. He lived the kind of life that made his Father, who was God, proud of him.

Therefore, I will be an example in the classroom and at home to those who would want to know what Jesus would do in any particular situation.

Jesus told people things that often made them uncomfortable, even though these things were the truth. For example, he said that if the things you owned were more important than the people around you, you could not enter heaven.

Therefore, I will tell my friends the truth when they do things that Jesus would not have done, especially if they try and get me to do something that is wrong. I am a child of God, who is destined for heaven.

Jesus taught us that sacrifice is a part of Christian living. Jesus made the greatest sacrifice of all when he gave his life for us.

Therefore, I will go gladly to Church even when I want to stay home; I will take care of the responsibilities I have around the house or in the classroom willingly; I will share the things I treasure most with others who are less fortunate.

Jesus is the Way, the Life, and the Truth. He guides me in everything I do or say. As I become closer to Jesus, it will be easier to think and say and do things exactly the way Jesus would want me to. However, it requires prayer and praise, worship and quiet time with God in order to become closer to Jesus.

Therefore, I will learn all that my teacher and the other students in Faith Formation have to teach me about Jesus, so that I can become closer to God in His Kingdom here on earth and later in heaven.
